could not pilot a 'Mech, Wolf's Clan-like aptitude tests for the Tharkan Strikers demonstrated other ways she could serve in a combat force. After a year spent in retraining for her new role, Hern glided onto the field as a warrior reborn, as a commander of her very own tank.

LI-126-01 Commentary

Aldis Industries unveiled their modified Regulator hover tank in 3083 in response to calls for a more resilient fast-attack tank. The Regulator II is heavier than its progenitor by only five tons, and suffers only an 11 percent speed reduction in favor of armor almost three times as thick. Sporting a lightweight Gauss rifle, this vehicle retains its ability to deliver a heavy punch at long range, and it quickly became a favorite strike vehicle for the Capellan Armed Forces after the Jihad.

CC0561-034A was produced for the Capellan Confederation in 3095, and fought in several border skirmishes against opponents of the Federated Suns before it was captured during a disastrous raid against The Republic. The vehicle made its way through several commands in The Republic's Armed Forces until it wound up on Skye when the HPGs went dark. Carmen Hern, its current commander, has nicknamed this vehicle "Slugger."

Carmen Hern still bears the disfiguring scars on the left side of her face from a cockpit explosion that destroyed her inner ear and permanently cost her a promising career as a MechWarrior with the Kell Hounds mercenary command. Half deaf, and unable to provide the sense of balance necessary to keep a BattleMech mobile and upright, she had to watch as her former comrades went off into battle without her. Eventually leaving the Hounds, Hern followed Alexia Wolf to Skye in response to Jasek Kelswa-Steiner's rallying cry to form the Stormhammers. Though she still
